Ike and Scranton Term Decision As 'Good News'

CHICAGO (AP) — Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania announced today that Dr. Milton Eisenhower, brother of the former president, will nominate Scranton at the Republican National Convention next week.

Scranton opened a news conference with this statement:

GOP Battle Forming In Plank Ranks

Scranton Camp Pressing For Rights Platform

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The 1964 Republican platform writers started work today under formal notice from the Scranton camp that fight over a civil rights plank is on.

Platform committee Chairman Rep. Melvin R. Laird of Wisconsin said at a news conference that Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton told him Sunday by letter and in a telephone conversation his backers will press for a party declaration that the 1964 Civil Rights Act is constitutional.

This amounts to a challenge to supporters of Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, who make up a majority of the platform committee.

Laird, preparing for a week's hearings with former Ambassador Clare Boothe Luce as the first witness tonight, repeated he does not think the week should be spent debating the constitutionality of the law.

"Prompt implementation is the way to test it," he added.

He also said he could not recommend to the platform committee a proposal made Sunday by a Goldwater spokesman in San Francisco—that the party come out for putting into effect the 14th Amendment's representation penalties against states that restrict voting rights.

Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania, convention manager for presidential hopeful William W. Scranton, Pennsylvania governor, called an informal meeting of from eight to a dozen of the 105 platform committee members.

Traffic Toll Sets Record For 3 Days

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Traffic accidents took a record 486 lives during the three-day Fourth of July observance. The toll was counted across the nation during the 78-hour weekend period from 6 p.m., Thursday (local time), to midnight Sunday.

The heavy death toll compared to the previous high of 442, set in a three-day Independence Day holiday period in 1960.

There was a sharp increase in fatalities in the last 24 hours of the 78-hour holiday period, with more than 175 deaths reported.

The National Safety Council had estimated the traffic deaths would total between 450 and 550. The council, until Sunday, had been hopeful that the final total would be below its pre-holiday estimate. But with millions of motorists homeward bound from resorts and vacations, the death rate rose far above the earlier pace.

Wonder World Closes; Business Is Poor

NEW YORK (AP) — "Wonder World"—the $3.5-million show at the World's Fair—closed Sunday because of poor business.

The coproducers of "Ice-Travaganza" said that unless business picks up, the ice show will put on its last performance Saturday.

Business at the Texas Pavilion's "To Broadway With Love" was described as "terrible" over the weekend. Sunday's show was the last Sunday performance. From now on it will be on a six day-a-week basis.

Seven Drown In Missouri On Weekend

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Seven persons drowned in Missouri during the hot Fourth of July weekend.

A Butler, Mo., boy, Terry Cantrell, 10, went in over his head in a farm pond near Butler Sunday. He did not know how to swim.

The body was recovered by Trooper E. A. Brewer, whose son Mike saw the boy go under. Brewer tried artificial respiration for 45 minutes.

A Livonia, Mo., 16-year-old, Richard Lewis Parcel, drowned in the Chariton River Sunday near Livonia. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Parcel.

The boy and three brothers were swimming and Richard stepped into a deep hole. The body was recovered.

A St. Louis resident, Gene Flamm, 20, apparently drowned Saturday night while swimming in the Meramec River in south St. Louis County. The Coast Guard said the body has not been found.

A Sikeston youth, Dan Bean, 15, failed to come up after a dive into deep water in North Cut ditch two miles east of Sikeston Saturday. The boy was recovered.

Leon Ellsworth, 17, of Bernie, Mo., drowned Saturday in Lake Wappapello. The body was recovered.

A swimming party ended in tragedy at Love Lake near LaPlata Saturday with the drowning of Gene Tiffin, 29.

A Rockford, Ill., man, Bill Myers, 31, drowned Thursday night in Lake Norfork about 25 miles southwest of West Plains. The body was recovered.

In addition a Missouri boy, 17-year-old Roger Hainline of Blandville, drowned near Keokuk, Iowa Saturday night while swimming in the Mississippi River.

Smithton Squad Goes To Cheering Clinic

Members of Smithton High School cheering squad will be represented at the second session of Missouri Valley College's annual school for cheerleaders, July 12-17.

Cheerleaders from 50 schools in Missouri, Kansas and Iowa are enrolled.

Long-range Planning by Johnson

Brews Work for Congress

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP)—President Johnson is "highly pleased and gratified" at Congress' record, but he is cooking up new proposals he feels will move the country toward his concept of a "Great Society."

Johnson believes enactment of the sweeping civil rights law has cleared the way for tackling such problems as metropolitan area growth; the growth of interlocking federal, state and local responsibilities and finances; health; education; and gearing the governmental structure to an age of science and technology.

White House sources relayed Johnson's views to newsmen covering his holiday stay here and said the chief executive already has a number of task

$100,000 Fire Kills 18 Horses At Mexico

MEXICO, Mo. (AP) — The loss was estimated at $100,000 from a fire Saturday which burned to death 18 horses owned by Arthur Simmons, a well known trainer and exhibitor.

Simmons said the loss included Stonewall Golden Dream, ninth rated stallion in the country, plus two broodmares and 15 colts.

The fire also destroyed the barn, 60 tons of hay and 40 tons of straw at the Simmons farm three miles north of Mexico. He said it was believed the fire started from spontaneous combustion.

Worst Accident In Nation Credited To State Over 4th

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Nineteen persons were killed in traffic accidents in Missouri during the long Fourth of July holiday.

The count of fatalities began at 6 p.m. Thursday and ended last midnight.

Eight persons died in a head-on crash Sunday four miles east of Bowling Green.

One of the cars was driven by a man who had been arrested earlier for speeding. He was identified as Willie Walker, 45, of Milwaukee, one of the dead. The Highway Patrol said the car was doing about 100 miles an hour when it crossed the center line and crashed into a station wagon driven by Harold W. Marshall, 48, of Kane, Ill.

Marshall, his wife, Clara, 47, their daughter Janice, 24, of St. Louis and four other occupants of the station wagon were killed.

The other dead were Mrs. Herberta Crawford, 34; her two sons David, 4, and Lawrence, 14; and Catherine Goodall, 14, all of Kane.

Walker, a Negro, had been stopped by a highway patrolman 90 minutes before the accident near Mexico, Mo., and charged with driving 90 miles an hour in a 65 mile zone. Walker was released after posting a $51 bond.

The Highway Patrol said Walker had a record of eleven traffic violations in Milwaukee. A Montreal, Mo., girl, 16-year-old Leona Lee Gumm, was killed Sunday when she was struck by a car while getting out of another auto on highway 7 about 13 miles southeast of Camden-ton.

A car driven by Michael Day Herman, 23, of Fort Leonard Wood, struck the right rear of

Test Warning Sirens

Sedalia police participated at 1 p.m. Monday in a "growl" test of Civil Defense warning sirens in the city and one unit located at 18th and Engineer again failed to function.

Police were stationed at each of the sirens which were sounded from police headquarters just long enough for officers to determine if they were operating.

Chief William Miller said the other four sirens sounded normally. The 18th and Engineer siren has failed on its last three tests and each time Civil Defense and police thought it had been repaired.

Miller expressed belief someone might be tampering with the siren.

200 Jailed In Weekend Riots At Five Points Over Country

Variety of Means Used To Halt Demonstrations

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Police used tear gas, dogs and cattle prods to break up Fourth of July riots by youths at five places from coast to coast.

About 200 persons were arrested. Several officers and rioters were injured.

The riots occurred at Indian Lake, near Bellefontaine, Ohio; Newport, R.I.; Garnett, Kan.; West Yellowstone, Mont., and Pleasanton, Calif.

At Indian Lake, an estimated 5,000 to 10,000 beer-drinking college youths staged boisterous demonstrations Friday and Saturday nights.

"These kids were like a keg of dynamite waiting for something to set them off," a sheriff said. More than 50 young men were arrested on the two nights. Tear gas was used to quell the rioting.

Authorities said firecrackers thrown into the crowds, injuring several youths, probably triggered the Saturday melee. One police officer suffered a heart attack.

Near Newport, R.I., thousands of youths attending the jazz festival started to whoop it up at a beach party. Beach house doors, beach umbrellas and a lifeguard stand were among items tossed onto a huge bonfire, police said.

About 100 youths were taken to jail when they hurled rocks and other missiles at officers. Police cleared the beach in about 90 minutes.

At Garnett, Kan., about 2,000 beer-drinking youths started a riot on an outdoor dance floor Saturday night. Two officers were burned by exploding cherry bombs.

Thousands had converged on the small Kansas town — pop. 3,000 — for the annual sports car races.

Police dogs bit several persons while helping to herd the unruly crowd to Garnett city park.

Police used electric cattle prods and nightsticks to get things under control.

At West Yellowstone, Mont., about 30 residents used as handles against a mob of 11,000 teen-agers and college-age youngsters Saturday night after the mob tore down fences, tipped over outdoor toilets and signs, and demolished a trailer for bonfire fuel in the resort town. Four young men were jailed.

On Federal Water Storage

Water Resources Board Proposes Annuity Fund

JEFFERSON CITY (AP) —

The State Water Resources Board proposed today the next Legislature set up an annuity fund so Missouri could help pay the cost of water storage in federal reservoirs.

Clifford L. Summers, executive director of the board, estimated the state would have to put up at least $500,000 each two years to build up the fund. Within the next 50 years, Missouri is expected to have to pay $10 and $15 million for water storage in federal projects.

The proposed legislation has been sent to interested organizations and legislators throughout the state. A hearing on it will be held in Jefferson City Aug. 25.

Summers noted plans for the Joanna Dam on the Salt River in northeastern Missouri provide for 20,000 acre feet of future water storage at a state or local cost of about $2 million. Another $2.5 million of state cost has been included in plans for proposed reservoirs in the Meramec Basin in east central Missouri.

The Water Resources Board is of the opinion that storage for municipal, industrial and agricultural uses should be provided in the Grand, Chariton and Platte River basins as a part of comprehensive water resource development," Summers said.

The money would be paid back to the state by the cities or other water users benefiting from the storage.

Legislation pending in Congress also would require local units of government to participate in the cost of recreational and wildlife benefits from reservoirs.

The proposed Missouri law does not mention that possibility in so many words but the language apparently would be broad enough to cover such a use of the fund if Congress passes the pending bill.

The water Resources Board also would be given the authority to review plans for proposed private impoundments or diversion structures in a stream basin.

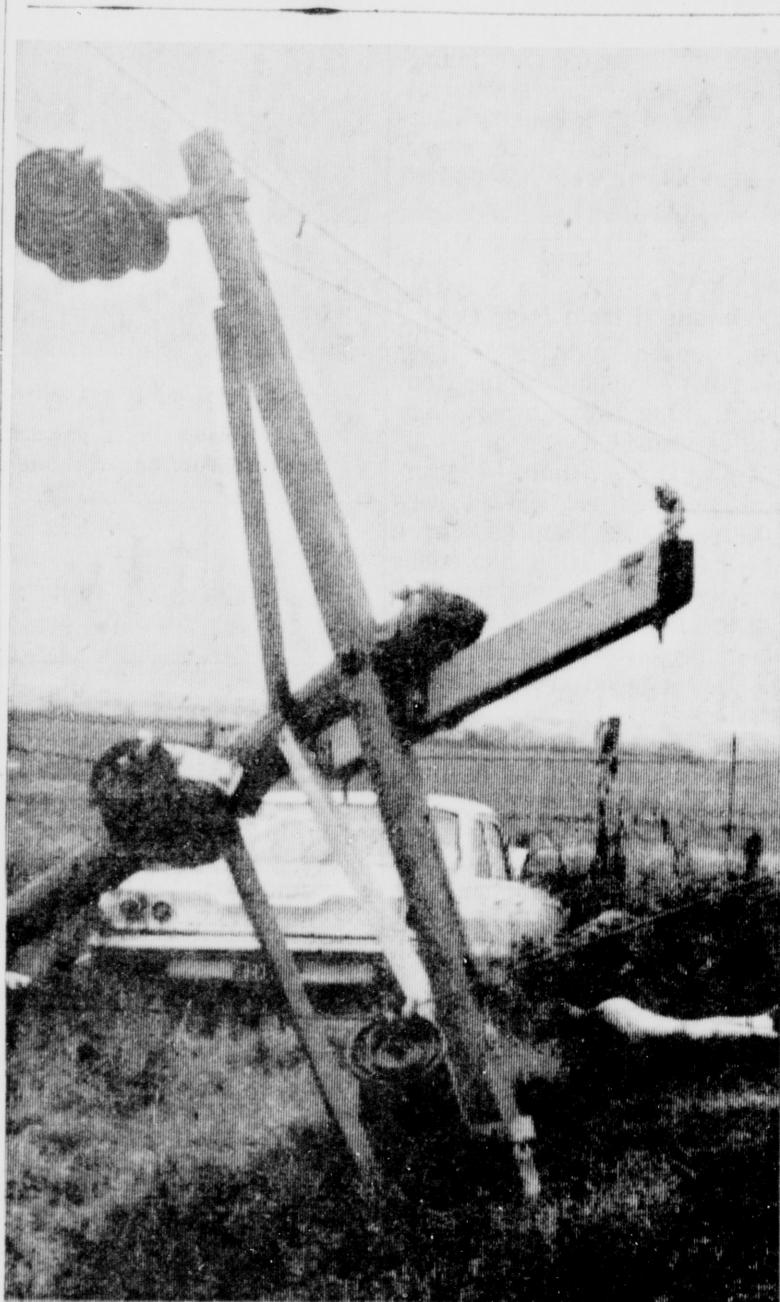

The bill would permit the board to start a record of water use in the state. This information is not compiled now.

Coroner Lists Deaths Cause 'Undetermined'

Asphyxiation was listed as the probable cause of death of two men found Friday evening in their trailer home about one mile west of Knob Noster. The burial certificate signed by Dr. Kelly Rollins, Johnson County coroner, lists the cause of death "undetermined, possible asphyxiation."

The two men were Paul Combs, Springfield, and Clyde Hosteller, Rogersville. Both were construction workers at Whiteman AFB.

One body was found on the divan and the other on the bed, as if they had retired for the night. Sheriff William Fortney of Johnson County investigated. The bodies were taken to Brauninger Funeral Home in Warburg.

DEATH SCENE—Marvin Allen Reid, Fort Leonard Wood, was electrocuted about 9 a.m. Sunday as he tried to rescue two injured persons in this car. The body can be seen at lower right. His head apparently hit the lower line near the car. A passenger in the car, Mrs. Doris Clay, Kansas City, was pinned under the pole. The driver, William Dalton, Kansas City, remained in the car. Both were taken to Bothwell Hospital where they were reported recovering Monday morning. (Democrat-Capitol photo)

Electrocuted At Crash Scene

Youth Dies In Bid To Assist Injured

A 17-year-old Fort Leonard Wood youth was electrocuted and two Kansas Citizens were injured in an accident series on Highway 65 about 15 miles south of Sedalia Sunday morning.

The youth, Marvin Allen Reid, son of Major Kenneth Reid, died when his head came into contact with a 69,000-volt power line while trying to assist the two injured people in a car.

The car had left the highway, struck and broke off a power line pole, lowering the line to about head height.

The body was taken to the Reser Funeral Home in Warsaw.

The injured, William Dalton and Mrs. Doris Clay, both of Kansas City, were taken to Bothwell Hospital. Dalton was reported in fair condition and Mrs. Clay was reported in good condition at the hospital Monday morning.

Troopers Pete Stohr of Sedalia and John Cummings of Warsaw made the investigation.

The patrolmen reported that the car going south, veered off the highway on the right side, apparently due to a blow-out, traveled 124 feet, then went back across the highway in a skid, stayed on the road for 244 feet, then left the road, knocking down some 150 feet of fencing on the Elbert Thomas farm, hit and broke off the power line pole, and came to rest in a fence corner.

Thomas, whose farm home is about one-fourth mile from the scene, said he heard the crash, looked up from a tractor he was working on and saw smoke and dust billowing up from the scene. He then started toward the crash.

In the meantime, a car in which Reid was riding stopped, and Reid crossed the ditch and hit the power line. He fell forward onto the car, causing the arc to pass into the car door and door handles.

Mrs. Clay was pinned under the pole, suffering what was later determined to be rib injuries. Dalton, driver of the car, a late model Chevrolet, was in the car. He suffered a fractured right leg.

As soon as Missouri Public Service Co. officials were notified, power on the line was shut off, and customers on the line were fed power from another line.

Four Hurt In Weekend Racial Melee

TEXARKANA, Tex. (AP) — A lakeside racial melee Sunday left four persons wounded by gunfire, and 33 Negroes jailed on charges ranging from inciting a riot to assault with intent to murder.

The violence erupted when Negroes swam in Lake Texarkana near here for the first time in large numbers since the passage of the civil rights bill. They were confronted with disgruntled and then angry whites.

At another area of the lake, whites left the beach when a group of Negroes began swimming.

The Cass County sheriff's office at Linden, where the Negroes were transferred, said Clifford Williams, 21-year-old Negro, was charged with assault with intent to murder.

Most of the others including five women, were charged with inciting a riot, a sheriff's deputy said.

The Negroes, most from Arkansas, were jailed in lieu of $1,000 bond each set by Judge Wayne Brown.

One white man and three Negroes were wounded in the racial outburst.

In the foreign field, Johnson is claiming to be well satisfied about the transition of new American leadership in South Viet Nam, his conferences with Greek and Turkish leaders on the critical Cyprus problem and his first meeting with a Latin American chief of state, President Francisco Orlich of Costa Rica.

When he gets back to the White House — it is not known when the President will end his Texas holiday — Johnson intends to talk with both outside experts and heads of various government departments and agencies about long-term planning in the various domestic fields which he feels need attention.

forces at work on long-term planning.

Until the various studies are finished, the President is not about to put a price tag on the proposals that ultimately may be submitted to Congress for new legislation.

Johnson has been trying to project the image of an economy-minded administration. But he is represented as feeling that while the people want sound and prudent fiscal management, they also want the government to respond with compassion to human needs.

The President has not ruled out the possibility of further civil rights legislation, but no determination can be made, he feels, until the effects of the bill he signed last Thursday are assessed.

Police Reports

Clay Williams, 414 Dal Whi Mo. reported to police Sunday afternoon that $34 in silver dollars had been stolen sometime in the past few days from a dresser drawer at his residence. No other loss was noted.

Police were informed at 2:30 a.m. Monday an auto had backed into a pay telephone booth at Colie's Drive-In, 2103 South Limit.

A Negro youth being held by police on a charge of prowling was released by mistake Sunday afternoon about 1 p.m., but he later returned when he learned police were seeking him again.

Henry Fulcher, Jr., 17, was arrested about 4:35 a.m. Sunday in the 600 block of South Washington, according to police.

Chief William Miller said he was released by mistake about 1 p.m. when Sgt. Perry Franklin thought the youth was being held only for investigation. Miller said technically that the prowling warrant had not been served on Fulcher at the time of his premature release.

The youth was fined $25 in Police Court Monday morning.

Police arrested a juvenile boy and girl, aged 16 and 15 respectively, Monday morning and officers said they implicated themselves in a house burglary the night of June 14 in Sedalia—a burglary in which four other young people and a juvenile boy are already charged.

The two were arrested by Sgt. Perry Franklin and Patrolman Clarence Harrell and turned over to Sheriff Emmett Fairfax. Police said the boy admitted entering the John T. White home at 103 East 28th, but the girl maintained she stayed behind in the automobile.

Police have investigated similar burglaries at four Sedalia churches in recent days. The loss has been small in each case, however.

A break-in at the First Christian Church was discovered at 7:30 a.m. Sunday and reported to police. The intruder gained entry by cutting a hole in a basement door glass. A soda machine was pried open and about $1.50 obtained.

Friday break-ins were reported at the First Methodist Church and at the Epworth Methodist Church. At First Methodist a soda pop machine was tapped for about 90 cents, the church office ransacked and about $1.25 taken from the children's offering. Entry was gained via a fire escape.

At Epworth Church, police indicated the thief went in an unlocked door and took about $2 from a soda pop machine.

On June 26 a burglary was reported at the Wesley Methodist Church. The church basement was entered and about $20 damage recorded when a soda pop machine was pried open. No loss was reported, however.

Accidents

A car struck the open door of another in the 300 block of South Lamine at 10:07 a.m. Monday and caused damage to both vehicles.

Involved, police reported were a 1961 Dodge, parked at the curb by Alice Lena Mallet, 53, Seafalia, and a 1961 Oldsmobile, being driven south on Lamine by Dorris E. Buckley, 40, Knob Noster.

Mrs. Buckley told police traffic in the opposite lane prevented her from swerving her car to avoid the open door of the Mallet auto.

Two cars were damaged in a collision at Broadway and Limit at 7:53 p.m. Saturday.

Involved, police reported, were a 1958 DeSoto, being driven west on Broadway by Barbara Lee, 25, 1421 West Third, and a 1953 Buick, being driven north on Limit by Anne E. Raines, 71, 1520 South Osage.

The left side of the Lee car and the front end of the Raines auto were damaged. Police said Mrs. Raines was given a summons for careless and imprudent driving by running a red light and is to appear in Police Court on July 8.

Denise Marie Stratman, 4½, 1317 East 16th, was reported in good condition Monday morning at Bothwell Hospital where she is recovering from a brush with an auto Sunday afternoon in front of her home.

Denise sustained a forehead laceration and a fracture to the right leg at the ankle, police reported after she ran into the side of a car about 2:50 p.m. Sunday. She was taken to Bothwell Hospital where she was treated by Dr. Stanley Fisher and admitted.

Police were not informed of the accident, however, until 4 p.m. when they were summoned to the hospital.

Danny Downs, 16, 1701 South Montgomery, was listed as the driver of the car which was traveling east on 16th. "The girl ran out in the road at the front of the car and I turned to miss her and she ran into the back of the car," Downs told police.

Police said witnesses indicated the mishap was unavoidable.

Sheriff Report

A white-face bull weighing approximately 1,000 pounds was reported missing Monday morning from a farm 10 miles southwest of Sedalia owned by James Heck, Route 4.

Sheriff Emmett Fairfax said the bull wears a tattoo identification number in one ear.

Fredrich A. Priester, 20, Lisle, Ill., was turned over to authorities from that city about 6 a.m. Monday morning after the youth had been held here since July on a fugitive warrant.

Priester had been wanted for contributing to the delinquency of a minor and information relayed to police here by the Lisle, Ill. chief of police resulted in his arrest. Police in Sedalia said he had an 18-year-old girl with him and another boy listed as 19.

Police turned him over to the sheriff's department and Sheriff Emmett Fairfax held him in the county jail until Monday. The girl and the other boy were released previously.

Chief Morris J. Wurth of Lisle picked up the youth Monday morning.

Daniel Defoe's Robinson Crusoe was partly inspired by the adventures of Alexander Selkirk, a Scottish sailor who lived alone with the barest of necessities from 1704 until 1709 on Juan Fernandez Island, due west of Valparaiso, Chile. However, Selkirk was not shipwrecked. He had a dispute with the captain of his ship and was put ashore on the island at his own request.

Ordaz Wins Presidency Of Mexico

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Government candidate Gustavo Diaz Ordaz, 53, was chosen Mexico's next president Sunday in one of the quietest elections in the nation's history.

His lone opponent was Jose Gonzalez Torres, 44, of the Party of National Action—PAN—which charged voting irregularities in a dozen states.

The federal electoral commission reported it was a clean election and there were no disturbances.

The final count will not be known for days. Only fragmentary returns were announced Sunday night. These were overwhelmingly for Diaz Ordaz, but not the 90 per cent lead he had been expected to get.

Diaz Ordaz pledged himself to give his full efforts to his new job, which he will take over Dec. 1 for six years.

He is believed to be a bit more to the right than President Adolfo Lopez Mateos. In campaign addresses he promised to continue the moderate policies of the present administration.

Diaz Ordaz was born in a village in the nearby state of Puebla March 12, 1911. His father was a schoolteacher and is a government accountant.

Educated in Oaxaca, Guadalajara and Puebla, Diaz Ordaz became a lawyer and was named to a minor state post.

He was elected to Congress in 1946 and served in various positions in the powerful Interior Ministry until Lopez Mateos named him interior secretary in 1958. His outstanding work in the ministry was the breaking of several major strikes early in the Lopez Mateos regime.

He was nominated for the presidency by the government Party of Revolutionary Institutions — PRI — last November.

World News Glimpses

RANGOON, Burma (AP) — A Buddhist monk burned himself to death Sunday in front of a sacred shrine 12 miles from Rangoon. There was no indication of his motive.

Bystanders rushed toward the monk, Shin Ardissa, 54, as he touched a match to his kerosene-soaked robes, but his body was immediately engulfed in flames.

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — Robert F. Kennedy's bid for Polish initiative to improve U.S.-Soviet relations won approval Sunday from the Polish Communist party newspaper.

Trybunalski hailed Kennedy's "emphasis on building bridges between nations" but scolded the American attorney general for "notoriously being late" for appointments with Polish leaders and for speaking to crowds from the roofs of cars.

ALGIERS (AP) — "The counter-revolution is being supported financially by French petroleum companies," President Ahmed Ben Bella of Algeria claimed Sunday.

Ben Bella faces guerrilla opposition in the Aures and Kabylie mountains led by some of his former comrades in revolution. He accused the oil companies at a mass meeting marking the second anniversary of Algeria's independence.

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China warned Laotian Premier Souvanna Phouma today against making speeches attacking Communist China.

"Of late, Prince Souvanna Phouma has vilified China in one speech after another," the Peking People's Daily said. "We must tell Prince Phouma in all seriousness that it is very dangerous for him to continue along this way."

Ann Landers

Answers Your Problems

Dear Ann Landers: Why don't you mind your own business and stick to counseling mixed-up people who are having marital problems?

As an embalmer and undertaker I resent your advice to the woman who wanted to know if it was proper to leave glasses on a person laid out for viewing. You said the idea of displaying the deceased was to suggest that the person was "sleeping." You added, and I quote, "Since it is unlikely that people sleep with their glasses on they should be left off."

If this were true, Ann Landers, why are policemen and firemen traditionally laid out in full uniform with the right hand holding the visor of the cap across the heart? Do you think policemen and firemen sleep in their uniforms and take their hats to bed with them? General MacArthur lay in state, resplendent in five-star regalia. Are you under the impression that General MacArthur slept in that outfit?

Speaking of sleep, I think you must have been in fairly deep slumber yourself when you wrote that reply. Why don't you admit you were wrong and apologize? —NO NAME PLEASE.

Dear No Name: All right. So they aren't sleeping.

Eye glasses are designed to improve the sight, no? If you should ever hear of a case where glasses over the closed eyes of a person (either living or dead) achieved this, will you please let me know?

Dear Ann Landers: My husband and I do not smoke. We have no ash trays in our home, and this is not an oversight, believe me. It is a way of letting our guests know we don't want anyone smoking when they visit in our house.

Last evening a new business associate of my husband's came over. The very first thing he did was light a cigarette. He then looked around the room for an ash tray, and seeing none he said, "I guess nobody around here smokes." With that he flicked his cigarette ashes in his pants cuff.

I went to the kitchen and brought him a saucer and said as coolly as I could, "Please use this."

Now I think I made a mistake by supplying the lummox with the saucer. I should have told him off. I know you are a non-smoker. How do you feel about this? —MAD AT MYSELF.

Dear Self: Not as vehemently as you did. Nonetheless, a considerate person, when he sees no ash traps around, should take the hint.

Dear Ann Landers: I am 14 and have a mad crush on a boy who lives in Omaha. Rod and I met at camp and have been corresponding since last year.

My father says Rod is an idiot just because he writes cute things on the outside of the envelope. I think some of the stuff he writes is real clever. Yesterday I got a letter and Rod had written across the back "Be-ware, Postman. Handle with as-bestos gloves. Hot stuff inside."

When my dad saw this he said "Tell that nutty kid if I see any more trash on the envelopes, his letters are going into the garbage can."

Please set my dad straight before he ruins my entire life.—CANDY.

Dear Candy: Sorry, but I'm with dad. Tell Rod to save the little gems for inside—where he can probably use 'em.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
WASHINGTON (AP) — After receiving more than $45 billion in aid from the United States, European nations are now paying back loans and giving out more in aid to the rest of the world than they now receive from the United States.

Officials of the Agency for International Development reported Saturday that U.S. aid to Europe for 1963 totaled $847 million, including $428 million in economic assistance and $419 in military aid.

AID reported that "free world" industrialized countries —Western European nations plus Japan and Canada —stepped up their aid programs in 1963. Their 1962 aid total, the last one available, was $2.4 billion.

Between 1946 and 1963 U.S. aid to Europe totaled $45.8 billion, of which $11.2 billion was in loans and $34.6 billion in gifts. European repayments on loans during the same period amounted to $6.4 billion.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Allen Ellender, a Louisiana Democrat who fought enactment of the new civil rights law, says "flagrant and perhaps violent" disobedience of it would be "foolhardy and indefensible—much more indefensible and foolhardy than it might have been at some other time in our nation's past."

In a talk recorded for broadcast in Louisiana, Ellender said Saturday that if enforcement of the act is to be resisted, "it must be within the framework of the orderly processes established by law."

Parents of 12 Are Victims Of Auto Collision

RONKONKOMA, N.Y. (AP) — "I had to tell the kids their mother and father were dead. Twelve kids! The young ones, they don't really understand yet."

The words of Suffolk County police Sgt. Roy E. Plume also revealed a personal tragedy: The dead father was his brother.

Killed in a head-on auto crash Sunday were Clinton Plume, 42, and his wife, Jean, 35.

The Plumes were the parents of six boys and six girls, ranging in age from 8 months to 17 years.

Police said Plume's car went out of control on Smithtown Boulevard in nearby Nesconset when the left front tire blew out.

Driving the other auto was Kare Karlsen, 19, of St. James. One of five passengers in his car, Anne Jensen, 17, of Brooklyn, died Sunday night in Smithtown General Hospital.

On the critical list at the hospital were Karlsen; Miss Jensen's sister, Helga, 20, and Anita Knutsen, 22, also of Brooklyn. In fair condition were Mr. and Mrs. Thorstein Feassness, both 19, of Ronkonkoma.

The Plumes had been driving home from the Ronkonkoma Volunteer Fire Department's annual fair where Plume operated a game and Mrs. Plume served refreshments.

When Sgt. Plume heard of the tragedy he wakened his nephew —the oldest child—Clinton III, 17. Together they told the next oldest child, Jean, 16.

Sgt. Plume also had the task of telling his father that his son and daughter-in-law were dead.

"He had a heart attack," he said. "Mild, we think. But he's 64."

Garbage Man Writes 'Best' Selling Book

BOSTON (AP) — James J. Fahey turns down invitations to literary teas on Beacon Hill and cocktail parties at Boston's Ritz because he's too busy at his job as a garbage man.

The invitations started to come in when Houghton Mifflin Co. published Fahey's "Pacific War Diary, 1942-1945," a year ago this month.

The invitations increased with news the fifth printing is nearly sold out and a sixth printing is planned.

Still, Fahey says "I'm not an author. I've been a garbage man for the City of Waltham for 14 years. I still drive a garbage truck and, I guess I always will until I retire with my civil service pension."

"I'm not a writer, never was, never will be. The book was a literary freak."

Admirals, naval historians and literary critics praised the book as a touching sailor's-eye view of the war from the Solomons through the Marianas and Philippines campaigns to Japan.

A bachelor of 45, who was orphaned when he was 3, Fahey still lives with his sister, her husband and their three children in suburban Waltham, 10 miles west of Boston.

His bedroom measures 10x8 feet—"and because I'm such a great collector there's hardly room to turn around in there," Fahey says. "I guess I save everything but money."

Money Fahey collects from the sale of his book goes to charity, he reports. Royalties to date are estimated at some $15,000.

His first royalty check went to a Presbyterian minister in Waltham, the Rev. Wyeth Willard, to help him in his church work.

Money now goes to a Roman Catholic priest, Father K. S. Michael, in the village of Mettapatti in Dindigul, South India, to build a church that will seat more than 2,000.

Fahey lives on his pay as a garbage man—a take-home income of less than $90 a week.

Fahey owns neither a typewriter nor a desk. He writes off his knee.

He wrote his diary surreptitiously on board the light cruiser Montpelier. Because it was illegal to keep wartime diaries—lest they fall into enemy hands—Fahey wrote on scraps of paper and, when the brass was around hid the notes inside his shirt.

"I just put down things I wanted to remember later in my life. I had no intention of writing a book," he says.

For 15 years the notes remained in a box under his bed. When he read a book by Joseph Bryan III on the life of Adm. William (Bull) Halsey, he got the idea his diary, too, might be published.

Fifteen publishers turned down the manuscript. Fahey

Business Review

US Dollar Depreciates Less Than Other Lead Currency

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — The American dollar, for the first time in years, is depreciating less than any other leading currency.

Latest figures show it has edged out those old champs, the German mark and the Swiss franc, in the race against shrinkage of purchasing power.

Depreciation is measured by calculating the purchasing power of a nation's currency as revealed by the increases in cost-of-living or consumer-price indexes.

Last year the big shrinkage was in some Latin-American countries, notably Brazil, down 43 per cent; Chile, off 31 per cent; and Argentina, 20 per cent.

This year the inflation news has been coming mainly from Europe, where several nations are fighting the rising cost of living that is whittling away the market place value of their currencies.

What shrinkage can mean in international investment markets is pointed out by the First National City Bank of New York.

It explains the effects this way: "If a 2.5 per cent annual rate of shrinkage in the value of a currency were projected over the life of a 20-year bond denominated in that currency, the real value of the bond would be reduced by 40 per cent at maturity."

Europe is developing its capital markets to lure long-term funds to finance its economic growth. But the bank notes that "until a better record of price stability is regained, it will be difficult to build investor confidence in bonds denominated in European currencies."

One reason the American dollar is rating so high today as an international standard of value is the far slower rate at which it has lost its purchasing power. And that also helps explain why the brief but disturbing runs on the American dollar in past years, with an attendant drain of gold reserves, have been largely eliminated this year.

The last 10 years the worst annual rate of depreciation of its currency has been turned in by Bolivia, 30.5 per cent. Chile is second with 26.3 per cent a year.

wrote to naval historian Samuel Eliot Morison who invited Fahey to his home in Boston. After reading the diary, recommended it to his own publisher.

While he doesn't go to literary teas or cocktails, the non-smoking, nondrinking Fahey is looking forward to one party later this month.

He's going to New York to receive a special award as "Garbage Man of the year."

Emergency Landing By Derby Entrant
CAPE GIRARDEAU (AP) — A plane competing in the Powder Puff Derby made an emergency landing about 30 miles northwest of Cape Girardeau Sunday, injuring the pilot and co-pilot.

The pilot, Audrey Schutte of Canoga Park, Calif., fractured a wrist. Her co-pilot, Ellen Trindle of Sherman Oaks, Calif., broke an ankle. They were held overnight for observation at St. Francis Hospital.

Cape Girardeau is an official stopping point on the derby, a women's transcontinental air race from Fresno, Calif., to Atlantic City.

The single-engine plane, a Piper PA-24, was damaged.

Forthright Double Talk

Through the miracle of modern communication, candidates for office can now sit in front of a television camera or a microphone and state their views and policies clearly, bluntly and explicitly to millions of voters throughout the nation.

Let us tune in to a popular network program as a quartet of top newsmen question a candidate who is avowedly eager to take his case directly to the people, no holds barred.

Q. Sir, you are quoted in the current issue of a national news magazine as saying, and I quote: "Anyone who votes for my opponent ought to have his head examined." Did you say that? And if you did, do you regard it as worthy of the dignity of the high office you are seeking?

A. First, of all, my good friend, let me make it crystal clear that I yield to no one in my high regard for the dignity of the important office I am confident I will hold when the intelligent people of this great nation go to the polls and vote according to their conscience and their judgment in the great tradition of the freedom-loving people of this sovereign country. It is this freedom sir, that I am unashamedly pledged to perpetuate, and I shall myself without stint or . . .

Q. But my question was, did you actually say that anyone who votes for your opponent ought to have his head examined? Please answer it, if you will.

A. I am glad to answer it. I am never reluctant to meet any question or any issue squarely and fairly. In this case, as you no doubt surmise, I was quoted out of context. My recollection is that the full purport of my remark was that even a man who might in mistaken but sincere judgment vote for my opponent still deserves the inalienable right of an American citizen to have his head examined—as well as any other part of his body which might conceivably be in need of medical attention—and to have it examined without one penny of cost to him as a citizen and taxpayer of this great nation. I can assure you and all Americans that . . .

There is no reason for any voter to be uninformed or unenlightened these days when the candidates can talk directly to the people and really lay it on the line.

Washington Merry-Go-Round

Kennedy Wants to Leave Justice Dept.

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—The Justice Department, one of the most dynamic agencies of government, seems to be marking time these days. The tousele-headed little dynamo who has held a tight rein on it for the past four years has his mind on other things.

Despite the fact that the civil rights bill, which Attorney General Kennedy helped to inspire, has just been born; despite the fact that his agency will have to enforce it; and despite the trouble in Mississippi which is in his bailiwick, Bobby is much more interested in foreign affairs.

If you go to the Justice Department and ask how civil rights will be enforced, or even what the new bill provides, you'll get no answer. St. John Barrett of the civil rights division won't give you an answer. Ed Guthman, of the press office, has been in Germany and Poland handling Bobby's press relations.

The fact that Guthman, one of the best public relations men in government, has been with the attorney general on a personal trip is in itself significant. Guthman also helped arrange Bobby's current interview with Newsweek, and the appealing cover story in Life magazine, featuring the attorney general and the Kennedy children. Still Eyes V.P.

All this is no accident. Kennedy has talked things over with the president, and the president knows Bobby wants to leave the Justice Department at an appropriate time. Johnson has offered the attorney generalship to Abe Fortas, former under secretary of the interior in the Roosevelt administration and one of Johnson's closest personal advisers. Fortas has declined.

Though he disclaims it, Bobby's friends say he still believes he has a chance to be vice president. His friends, incidentally, include some of the White House staff, which makes it somewhat embarrassing for Johnson, because a president customarily will pick his own vice presidential running mate.

The friends held a meeting not long ago at the Sheraton Carlton Hotel to plot strategy.

At one time when LBJ was still feeling his way as president, Bobby could have forced his nomination as vice president. But not today. Johnson is now in a position where political observers agree he can win without the Kennedy name on the ticket.

But relations between the two, once not cordial, have improved. The president gave Bobby a big lift when he appointed him special envoy to Indonesia to straighten out the Sukarno mess. This got the attorney general out of the terrible depression into which he had slumped after his brother's death. Since then, Bobby has gone out of his way to consult with the man he once terribly resented, and the president in turn MILWAUKEE JOURNAL: Foul Balls.—It used to be that a boy's fondest dream was to snare a foul ball off the bat of some professional ballplayer. Anyone so fortunate was the envy of the neighborhood. His prize was cherished dearly.

Those simple pleasures seem to be passe now. However, catching fouls can be a money making proposition.

Out in California, a minor league outfit, the Modesto Colts, pays 25 cents for each returned foul ball as a cost cutting measure. The club figures it saves about $1,000 a year in baseball bills. Other clubs are known to do the same.

We still prefer the good old days. It was more fun. You didn't worry about profit or loss. A shrewd bargainer could trade his prize catch for a rabbit's paw, a pocketfull of glassies, magnifying glass, Chinese hand-cuffs and maybe even a yo-yo. What's a quarter compared to all this?

feels much more kindly toward him—even though he is fully aware that the Kennedy cohorts have been plotting to put Bobby across as vice president whether he, LBJ, likes it or not.

In brief, Bobby is very much in the running for vice president; and Johnson is anxious to use him in the administration wherever he can be happy—except in the position of vice president.

Goldwater-Go-Round

Dr. Milton Eisenhower conferred with his brother Ike before endorsing Gov. Scranton. Milton begged Ike to abandon his neutrality and support Scranton too. Ike at that time had been listening to ex-Secretary of the Treasury George Humphrey, an old guard Republican. . . . Both Goldwater and Scranton have been trying to recruit Len Hall, the Republican ex-chairman, to manage their campaigns in San Francisco. Officially Hall has remained aloof. But behind the scenes he has been helping Scranton. . . . Goldwater has explained to his followers that Western Europe is opposed to his nomination because those nations are afraid he might cut off their economic aid.

Apparently Barry has been voting on foreign aid bills without reading them. It's almost ten years since the nations of Western Europe have received any American economic aid. . . . Goldwater supporters have urged Gov. George Wallace to withdraw from the race for president. Wallace hopes to get his name on the ballot in 25 or 30 states in November and thus win enough electoral votes to throw the presidential election into the House of Representatives. However, Goldwater lieutenants have pleaded with Wallace that this will only hurt Barry. . . . Senator Goldwater has been using professional writers to spice up his campaign speeches. Bob Hope has lent some of his writers.

Gov. Scranton now has 50 political aides on the road buttonholing delegates. They are using Nelson Rockefeller's dope sheets which list the sympathies, friends, bankers, idiosyncrasies of every delegate. Rockefeller's file also suggests the best approach to each delegate — whether it should be through his banker, doctor, or other political contact. . . . Liberal Democrat Don Edwards of California predicts the Republican party will lose ten of its fourteen congressional seats from California if Goldwater receives the nomination. Though the Goldwaterites have taken over the party machinery in California, the voters don't play follow-the-leader. . . . Goldwater has Ohio GOP leaders so scared that three top ones—Gov. James Rhodes, state chairman Ray Bliss, and Cuyahoga County chairman, A. L. Demaioribus—begged off from attending the Scranton reception in Cleveland.

The World Today

Goldwater Plans 'War' On Johnson

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater has indicated that if he gets the Republican presidential nomination his campaign against President Johnson will be rougher than those of recent years.

But he has been moving cautiously in his double task of trying to cool any opposition to him among Republicans while going ahead with his efforts to sew up the nomination.

The Associated Press recently asked him his position on a number of issues. The answers, prepared by his staff from some of his recent statements, were released over the weekend.

He was asked what the main campaign issues will be. Several were listed and wound up with this: " . . . the dark shadow of scandal that hangs even over the white house itself." There has been no scandal talk in recent campaigns.

There was no explanation for what Goldwater meant. But, since he considers this a main point, it can be assumed he would hammer away at it.

If Goldwater gets the nomination, which looks likely, he will need not only all the Republican votes he can get afterward but also those of the usually Democratic Southern states. He has said a Republican couldn't win without them.

His votes against the civil rights bill angered a number of Republicans already against him. So far as can be seen it lost him none of his supporters. It probably endeared him to a lot of Southern whites.

He said the bill, voted into law July 2, flies in the face of the Constitution and enforcement of some of its sections would need a "federal police force of mammoth proportions."

He meant the sections prohibiting discrimination in public accommodations and employment. But his "no" vote gave Pennsylvania's Gov. William W. Scranton, his leading opponent for the nomination, an issue at the Republican convention opening next Monday in San Francisco.

As the Republican platform committee gathered there Sunday for days of hearings before hammering the party's positions and promises together, the Scranton forces' strategy was obvious: How to create divisions at the hearings and come up with conclusions the Goldwater forces couldn't support.

The senator and his advisers had plenty of time to prepare for such a move. Equally obvious for him would be to compromise where he could to avoid party splits.

But there was a very sore point: How compromise on a civil rights plank without alienating the South since, if elected president, Goldwater would be expected to carry through on whatever the platform promised? The Goldwater forces seemed prepared for this, too.

On a television show Sunday, the senator's chief spokesman on the platform committee, Rep. John J. Rhodes, an Arizona Republican, was asked about Goldwater's views on a civil rights plank.

He gave an answer which might pacify Republicans and soothe the South.

He said Goldwater would go along with a plank, suggested by Scranton, which called for penalizing states that denied their citizens a vote. Under the 14th Amendment a state could be deprived of representatives in Congress in proportion to the number of people not voting.

But this could never be done without a tremendous fight in Congress.

Rhodes was also asked what Goldwater as president, would do about enforcing the Civil Rights Act which he said is contrary to the Constitution.

Rhodes had an answer for that, too. "Sen. Goldwater as president of the United States would certainly require a reasonable degree of enforcement which I think would please anybody."

Reasonable is a debatable word. The enforcement which seemed reasonable to Southern whites, who oppose the Civil Rights Act, might greatly displease Negroes who want its protection.

Earthquake Douses Mexico City Lights

MEXICO CITY (AP) — A sharp earthquake hit Mexico City early today, and all lights in the center of the capital went out.

It was the sharpest earthquake Mexico City has experienced since 1957.

Three minor earthquakes were felt Sunday in northern Sonora and Baja California, in northwest Mexico, but no casualties or damage was reported.

Electric power was restored quickly in many parts of the city, but some areas remained dark.

Many people were frightened and ran into the streets. In the 1957 earthquake 66 persons were killed and there was

Politicians Find Prison Conditions Debate Topic

The Missouri prison situation in recent weeks has been subjected to continual scrutiny by several of the gubernatorial hopefuls, both on the Republican and Democratic side, and the promise for the remaining month of the primary in-fighting is for more of the same.

But, basically, all now have swung around to similar ground in saying that something has to be done to give the system a lift. This, Col. James D. Carter, director of the Department of Corrections, says is what he has advocated for the past nine years.

One candidate has come out strongly for abolishing the present maximum security facility located on the Missouri River bluffs at Jefferson City. Another counters, saying such funds could build a lot of college dormitories.

Other ideas kicked around include numerous prison facilities in various parts of the state. These, which would resemble in structure the pending mental health centers, would also be able to serve as district jails for counties unable to afford adequate facilities.

The feasibility of the above for the immediate future is debatable, many feel. Carter has said that he views the present "discussions" in the light in which they are being conducted, that is, as mostly political meanderings and loose promises.

"I'm in the hopes that some steps will be undertaken to get such a program started," the prison director said. "But, I don't look for quick results."

The Department of Corrections currently is operating under a budget for the biennium of over $13.5 million. In addition, funds have been made available for personnel raises.

Improving the present system will require, admittedly, great sums of money. For instance, Carter would like to see a prison built in Missouri resembling the model federal facility at Marion, Ill. The cost? Roughly $9 million.

Also, prison officials have repeatedly praised the operations and results of the "honor camp" at Fordland and would like to see another in existence. But, the cost of securing land for another honor camp is placed between $35,000 and $50,000.

In addition, the relatively new medium security prison at Moberly is expected to be doubled when funds are available. Now, it houses fewer than a thousand inmates, but has land available for nearly twice this many.

Carter also has hopes of transferring industrial shops to the Moberly institution, but as yet has arrived at no cost estimate for this.

In any event, prison officials appear to be glad that the politicians are showing an interest in the present situation, but view it mainly as so much talk. Their attitude more or less is "I'll believe it when I see it."

Outlook For State Is Hot, Windy July

Until the first of the month, the political climate in Missouri was merely at the heating up stage and had failed to parallel the initial onslaught of summer's heat.

But, this all shows signs of rapidly disappearing as the state, in the vanguard of the weatherman, can be expected to see a lot of hot air generated from various "high pressure cells." Along with the hot air will be an equal amount of "steam."

Thus, Missouri appears destined for a long, hot, muggy July with the heated climax set for the first week in August when voters take control of the "thermometer."

Dalton Issues Call For Better Libraries

Governor John M. Dalton has issued a challenge to Missouri library officials to help perk up the library system in Missouri in order that it will be able to keep up with and encourage better development of the state.

"Good public libraries must be placed within the reach of all of our people," the governor told a conference on library development in the state's capital city. "Libraries are not just for our youth preparing for their careers. They are not just for busy people looking for informaconsiderable damage.

Telephone lines to other areas of Mexico were down, and there was no immediate way of telling whether other areas were hit.

Large crowds, mostly tourists in night attire, poured from hotels.

tion to do their jobs. Libraries are for everyone and therein lies their real value," the governor continued.

Dalton's remarks pointed up what library officials have constantly attempted to drive home in Missouri — there are some areas of the state in which no public library facilities are available.

Change Urged For Bond Vote

There appears to be growing sentiment for a constitutional change in the majority requirement in passing municipal and school bond issues. Presently, Missouri is one of only four states requiring a two-thirds majority for passage of general obligation bonds.

There are seven states which require a sixty per cent margin for bond victories while the remaining states merely require a simple majority or, as in some cases, no vote at all.

Hardly a week goes by in Missouri that some community or school district is not being asked to ballot on a bond issue. Many receive only a simple majority which is not quite good enough for passage, thus construction of new facilities is thwarted.

It's the Law In Missouri

REAL ESTATE PURCHASE

The signing of a contract of sale is an extremely important step in the purchase of a home. Once buyer and seller have signed, they are bound by the provisions of the contract. Their legal rights in the transaction are set and determined. If the contract is poorly and haphazardly drawn, a harvest of regret may be reaped at a later date.

Sales contracts are often called by other names, such as earnest money contracts, binders, receipts, etc. All of them are for the same purpose and almost all involve the deposit of money by the buyer. The fact that such deposits are usually to be forfeited, in the event the buyer fails to go through with the sale, lends more weight to the warning that no contract should be signed without complete understanding of its terms.

Many home purchasers, however, rush to sign a hastily prepared contract with very little knowledge of its contents. The pressure of time, the informality of the occasion, the casual appearance of the contract, and perhaps, the fact that a partially printed form is used, may contribute in causing the importance of the act to be overlooked. At any rate, many are lulled into a lapse of good business judgment.

Every significant detail of the bargain should be crystallized in unmistakable terms in the contract of sale. Land and fixtures being sold should be clearly described. A complete description of the property by lot and block, or by metes and bounds, is a must, the street number being inadequate by itself.

Articles and fixtures included in the sale should be specifically listed. Included in this category are such items as venetian blinds, TV antennas, removable floor coverings, draperies, air conditioning units and others. In purchasing property under construction, complete plans and specifications form an essential part of the agreement.

The price to be paid must, of course, be specified, along with method and terms of payment. If a certain sized loan is a prerequisite to the buyer's ability to complete the purchase, this fact should be noted. Sad indeed is the prospective purchaser who loses his earnest money when a contemplated loan transaction falls through, his contract requiring payment of the entire consideration in cash.

The sale contract should also state the quality of the title to be conveyed to the buyer and the type of title evidence to be furnished.

All too often people try to squeeze a sales contract to fit the type of printed form on hand, omitting or leaving to oral agreement many vital provisions. Do not fall into the "pit-fall of the printed form." You should learn the legal consequences of an earnest money contract before you sign it, rather than trusting to luck that it will be all right.

Across Pettis County

Director, MU Extension Center

Dates Ahead

Friday, July 10—Pasture of the Month nominations are due in the University Extension Center.

July 22-24—Pettis County 4-H Achievement Days.

Lawn Care in July

Lawns are receiving a lot of attention now. Crabgrass should be showing up. If a pre-emergence treatment for crabgrass was not used, seedlings may be evident in the lawn by this time. This seedling or young plant stage is readily controlled with spray or dry formulations of disodium methylarsenate and related arsonates. These herbicides are sold under various trade names and must be used according to the directions found on the container for good results.

Any suspicious discoloration or browning of grass in circular or irregular patches may indicate that a disease or insect is injuring the lawn. Most insects found in the lawns can be controlled with chlordane or dieldrin, used according to directions on the label. Common Kentucky bluegrass is prey to several diseases and no single chemical can cure all of them. Ask at the University Extension Center for helpful information on diagnosis and recommendations for control.

Water-soluble pest control chemicals can be easily and quickly applied with a hose-end applicator on the garden hose.

This is the wettest month during the average season. There is a good chance of having generous rains even if the first part of the month was exceptionally dry. One good watering when the grass starts to wilt frequently will keep the lawn growing well into July. Normally July and August are dry months and bluegrass goes dormant when the soil becomes hot and dry.

Summer fertilization of bluegrass is not recommended because it may encourage lawn diseases and stimulate crabgrass growth.

Clearing Up Well Water

After the rains we had a while back, several wells turned up with murky and dirty water in them. Murky water in a well is a good indication that surface water is flowing rather directly into the well. Some sources and remedies of such contaminations could be as follows: First, a bad well top. The remedy for this would be to make the well top water tight. This could be done in various ways, depending upon the situation. Second, in a dug well contaminated or murky water sometimes seeps around the rock and enters near the well top. The remedy here is to first dig a trench around the well and fill with concrete so the top of the well is water tight to a depth of six feet or more. Also the ground should slope away from the well so that surface draining does not get to the well at all.

And third, most wells are supplied by tapping an underground water-bearing strata. However, some have as the water supply an underground stream. Sometimes such underground streams are fed by surface runoff by way of a sink hole. It is very difficult to do anything to clear water in this event.

Fans Aid in Keeping Cool

Window or attic fans can make it more comfortable by exhausting warm air from the house and drawing in cooler air—generally in the evening and at night. An MU Guide, Cool Your Home With a Window or Attic Fan, No. 1706, which lists a variety of information concerning fans: how to determine what size fan is necessary for the size of the area to be cooled, how to control air flow through the home, types of on and off controls available, and merits of window and attic fans. A copy of the guide is available free at your county extension center.

Figures Show Loss Of Rural Population

Missouri's rural population dropped from 1,823,968 to 1,443,256 from 1940 to 1960, according to figures compiled by Rex R. Campbell and John J. Hartman, University of Missouri sociologists.

The loss during those 20 years was 380,712. Rural residents are defined as those who live in municipalities of less than 2500, and on farms.

The state's urban population increased by 915,861 during the same 20-year period. It was 1,906,696 in 1940. By 1960 it had risen to 2,876,557.

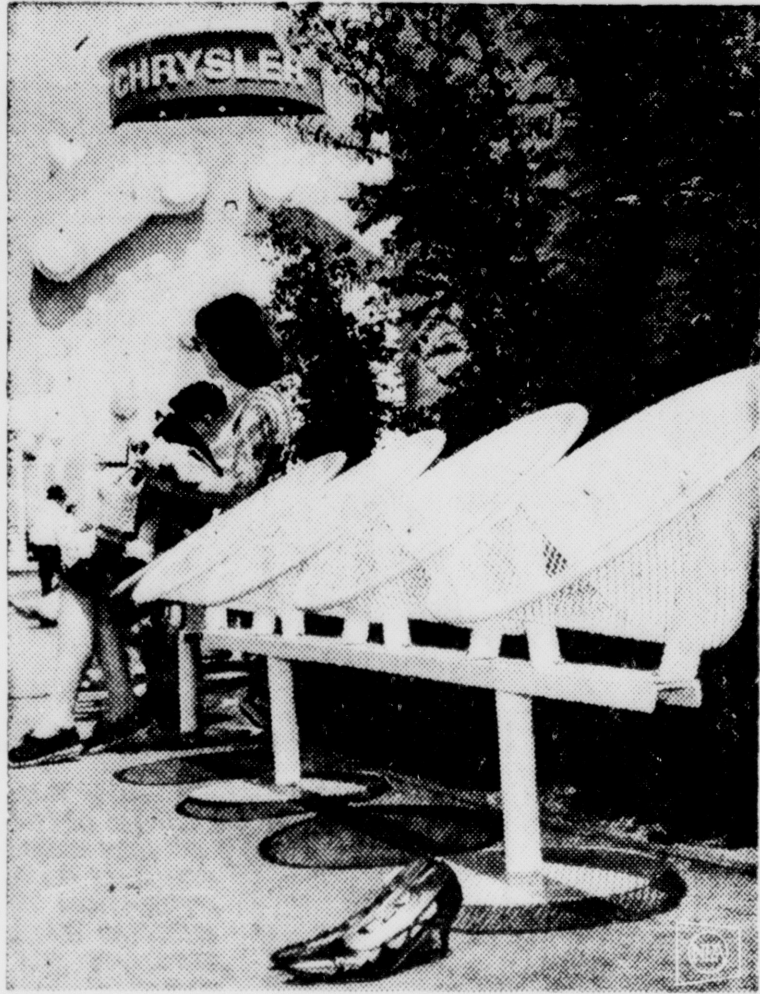

Drench Ewes For Parasite Control

Sheepmen with internal parasite problems in their animals are advised to drench ewes at least three times a year, and more often if the need is indicated.

James E. Ross, University of Missouri extension animal husbandman, says the first treatment should take place before ewes are turned on pasture in the spring.

Ewes should receive a second treatment about July 1, and the third drenching after the first hard freeze in the fall.

The most effective of the materials approved for the drenching, says Ross, is thiabendazole. Phenothiazine is most effective when used in rotation with thiabendazole. Finely ground phenothiazine is more effective

Livestock Association Meeting Set

"Who's Making the Money on Your Beef?" will be the topic of Ovid Bay, associate editor of Farm Journal, speaking at the annual meeting of the Missouri Livestock Association in Columbia on Wednesday, July 15.

The association's meeting will be held in the Student Union building on the MU campus beginning at 9:45 a.m. Carl Raines of Pettis County is one of the livestock group's board of directors members.

The program will deal with some of the present problems of the livestock business. Larry Simerl, extension economist from the University of Illinois, will present his views on the current market and what the future may hold for the livestock industry.

Livestock and Pasture Spraying

Livestock men considering spraying their pastures for weeds and brush are wondering what to do with their livestock while they are spraying. They ask, "Should they be removed?" Extension Field Crops Specialist Bill Murphy says this is a broad question and the answer will depend upon the chemical being used.

However, 2,4-D and 2,4,5-T are the most common materials being used for this purpose, and current label restrictions do not call for the removal of livestock from pastures when they are applied. These herbicides are non-toxic to livestock, so the only danger involved is the rare cases when their hormone action may make poisonous plants more palatable to animals or when a dying plant develops a poisonous principle. For example, wild cherry leaves are poisonous while wilting.

Wheat Outlook

The price of wheat in 1964-65 will average well below the $1.85 seasonal average farm price for the 1963 crop. It is anticipated that the market price to the Missouri producer will be close to the loan rate of $1.30 per bushel, with considerable less volume of wheat going under the price support program.

As a result of several unusual situations, many buyers are working on a hand-to-mouth basis. The usual policy of minimizing old-crop supplies in face of the new harvest is heightened this year by the sharp decline in the price support loan rate. The 1964 crop-loan rate, at $1.30 per bushel, is 54 cents below the 1963 crop loan rate. Market prices will adjust to this new level and this, alone, is sufficient to bring extreme caution into the market.

5,750,000 Birds

Record Turkey Crop Seen By University Economist

The largest turkey crop in Missouri history—5,750,000 birds—is expected in 1964, according to present estimates, Leonard Voss, University of Missouri agricultural economist, has stated.

The estimated figure places the total slightly above the previous record set in 1961, and is 10 per cent higher than 1963 production.

The reason for the increased production, said Voss, is that growers are responding to considerable activity by various industry interests to grow more birds.

Factors in the expansion are added processing facilities in the state, and favorable experience with contract production—contracts between processors and growers.

The economist pointed out that many eight-week-old turkeys are being placed with growers who have not handled turkeys before, and in communities where this poultry is not a familiar sight.

There will also be more turkeys produced across the country, Voss added. The U.S. crop will be five to seven per cent higher.

In the face of this increase in number of birds, the price per pound during the September-December marketing season will probably be about a cent below the average for the same period in 1963.

Storage stocks of turkey on Jan. 1, 1964, were 14 million pounds greater than on that date in 1963. By June 1, 1964, these stocks had dipped to only three million more than on hand June 1, 1963.

Federally inspected slaughter was three million pounds more for January through May of this year than for the same five months in 1963. This is about a three per cent increase. The slaughter increase, plus the increased reduction in storage stocks, amounts to 10 per cent more turkey consumed this year over last year during that period.

Chide Senator For Mistake On Carver's Birth

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP)—

A Missouri congressman and state representative today produced Sen. Frank Carlson, Kansas Republican, for reading a story into the Congressional Record stating the late George Washington Carver was born at Nicodemus, Kan.

Carver, famed Negro agricultural scientist, was born near Diamond, Mo., in the Missouri Ozarks between Joplin and Neosho. The Carver National Monument is located at Diamond.

Rep. Durward G. Hall, D-Mo., said senator Carlson "... took liberty in 'borrowing' one of our most distinguished native sons

Robert E. Young, state representative from Carthage, said "It's an inappropriate and completely questionable claim on its face." Young heads a committee planning an open house at the monument next Sunday.

Senator Carlson's statement about Carver in the March 16 Congressional Record came during civil rights debate in the Senate. He read a long story about the all-Negro town of Nicodemus, Kan. which stated that Carver was born there.

The Rooks County Record at Stockton, Kan., said the story Carlson read was written by a Hollywood, Calif., public relations firm which submitted it as the basis for a motion picture on the town.

Classic Set Tuesday

Most All-Star Hurlers See Action Over Weekend

NEW YORK (AP) — The National League leads the American League 2-0 in rested pitchers going into Tuesday's All-Star Game.

Of the 15 hand-picked pitchers for the All-Star classic, 13 saw action during the weekend, leaving the National League with a distinct advantage in its bid to even the over-all series between the leagues at 17 victories each.

Walt Alston of the Los Angeles Dodgers, manager of the National League team, had Don Drysdale of the Dodgers and Philadelphia's Chris Short sufficiently rested.

But Al Lopez of the Chicago White Sox, the American League skipper, had a cupboard like Mother Hubbard's.

It was suggested that Lopez line his pitchers up and call for volunteers to take one step forward. The starting assignment was to go to the last man stepping backward.

In the absence of such a maneuver, Lopez was expected to tap Minnesota right-hander Camilo Pascual for the opening shot on the mound while Alston was expected to nominate Drysdale, also a right-hander, since both line-ups are stacked with right-handed hurlers.

Some 40,000 tickets have been sold for the 35th All-Star Game, to be held for the first time at the new, 55,000-seat Shea Stadium. The game at noon, EST, will be televised nationally.

Two American League stars already have been declared out of the game, and there is a strong possibility that quite a few of the outstanding pitchers in the majors will spend the day in the bullpen.

Reserve outfielder Al Kaline of Detroit was ruled out when the Tigers notified the American League that he had suffered a severely bruised left ankle in Saturday's game. Rocky Colavito of Kansas City will replace him. Earlier, Boston shortstop

Eddie Bressoud replaced Baltimore's Luis Aparicio, who is nursing a pulled groin muscle.

The pitching situation has been the same story for many years, prompting Casey Stengel, manager of the New York Mets who will be one of the National League's coaches, to suggest that baseball pass a rule prohibiting use of All-Star pitchers the Sunday before the game.

A Drysdale - Pascual duel would match two pitchers with 0-1 All-Star records. Drysdale, 11-7 during the regular season, has been effective in All-Star action despite his record, allowing only six hits with a 2.45 earned run average in four games. Pascual has allowed four hits in six All-Star innings with a 3.00 ERA.

The result of the game, however, may rest with the sluggers.

The American League line-up includes Harmon Killebrew, Bob Allison and Tony Oliva of the Twins and Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees. The National League muscle men will be led by Willie Mays of the San Francisco Giants and Billy Williams of the Chicago Cubs.

Dow Clouts Long Homer; Chiefs Win

Ernie Dow blasted a 344-foot home run over the left center-field fence to cap off the Ban Johnson Chief's ninth league victory against no defeats as they downed Lowry City 6-2 Sunday at Liberty Park.

Lowry City took a one-run lead in the first inning, but Sedalia came back in their half of the first and tallied two. Bob Nagel led off with a double and advanced to third on an infield out. Tim Morgan singled him home and Morgan advanced to third on two throwing errors, then scored on an infield out.

The Lowry Citizens knotted the score in the seventh, but the Chiefs regained composure after Bob Lange reached first on a fielder's choice and was doubled home by Bill Ferguson.

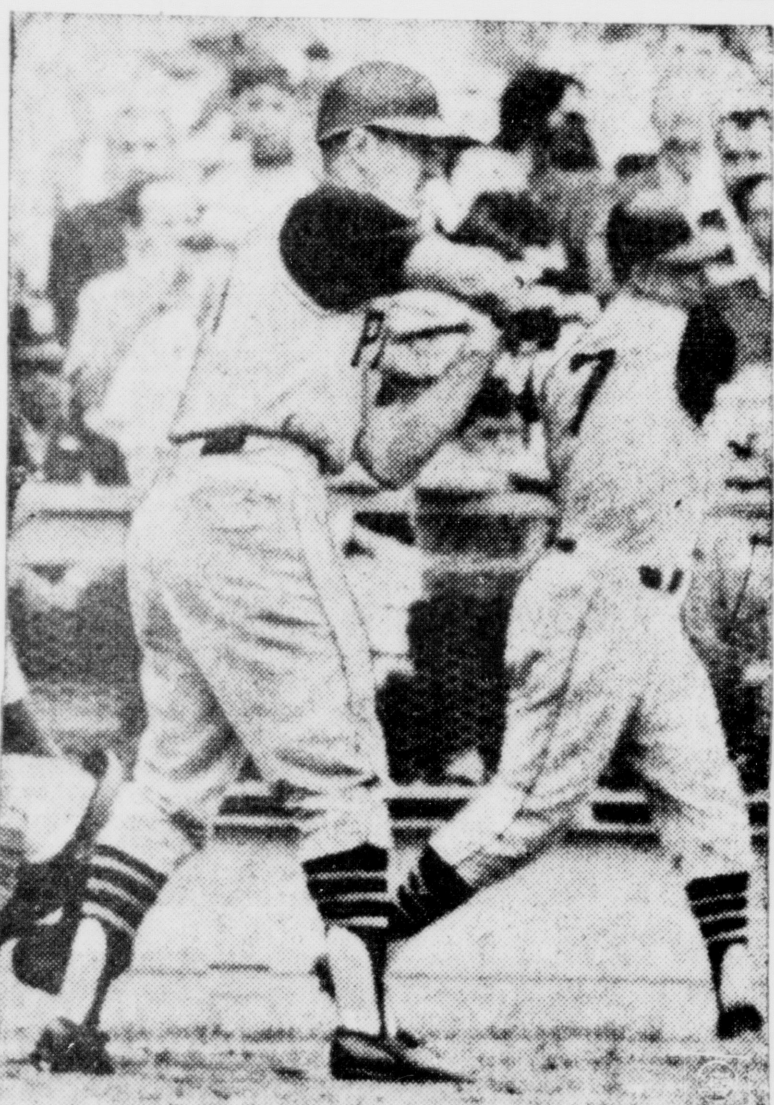

The Chiefs zipped it up with three in the eighth. Paul Horner singled and Tim Morgan followed with another to make way for Dow's shot over the left center-field marker.

Dow turned in a single besides the homer and Horner and Morgan had two singles each. Nagel and Ferguson had two-baggers and Jerry Barr had a single to complete the Chiefs hitting attack. They produced their runs off nine hits and committed four errors. Lowry City had five hits and three errors.

Terry Fletcher was the winning hurler for the Chiefs. He started and worked seven innings before yielding to Jim Schnakenberg in the eighth. Fletcher allowed two runs, five hits and struck out five Schnakenberg struck out four and allowed no hits or runs.

Carrollton Here Sedalia sees action here Thursday night as they host the Carrollton BJ squad on the Liberty Park diamond at 8 p.m.

A's Take Orioles In a 3-1 Victory

By MURRAY CHASS

Associated Press Sports Writer

Manny Jimenez, the rambunctious revolutionary, still may have problems, but he won't get any sympathy from the Baltimore Orioles.

Jimenez powered the lowly Kansas City Athletics to a 3-1 victory over the American League leading Orioles Sunday less than 24 hours after he ripped Baltimore pitching for three home runs in five innings.

The 25-year-old native of the Dominican Republic doubled home two runs and scored the third as the Athletics climbed out of the cellar for only the second day in more than a month.

Jimenez has experienced assorted difficulties since his rookie season in 1962 when Athletics' owner Charles O. Finley ordered him to hit home runs.

His latest problem came early last month when the Athletics decided to ship him to the minors.

"I quit," the volatile Jimenez threatened. "I will not report. I think I'm a better ball player than others they have on this club. I don't want to go back to the minors. I will go home first."

However, Jimenez agreed to report to Dallas of the Pacific Coast League, perhaps after recalling home as he left it in the spring. That's when the outfielder was fined $200 for reporting late to spring training.

"I have to fight in revolution," he said at the time, trying to explain his tardiness.

But Jimenez survived the revolution and Dallas. In fact, although his batting average is a mediocre .241, he's hitting .283 since his return to Kansas City.

In other American League games Sunday, Minnesota bombed New York 9-2. Chicago shut out Cleveland 2-0 and Detroit swept Washington 7-6 and 3-0 and Boston downed Los Angeles 9-6.

Pitcher John O'Donoghue and George Williams singled in the third before Jimenez doubled. Rocky Colavito then singled in Jimenez. Bob Johnson homered in the third for Baltimore. O'Donoghue gave up five other hits until he needed relief help from Wes Stock in the ninth.

Harmon Killebrew clouted his 30th home run and added three singles as the Twins stopped Whitey Ford's 10-game winning streak, handing the ace southpaw his first defeat since opening day. Tony Oliva contributed two doubles and a single to Minnesota's 19-hit attack.

The White Sox increased their shutout mastery over the Indians to three straight games. Juan Pizarro scattered seven hits in the opener as Mike Hershberger and Pete Ward slammed consecutive homers with two outs in the first inning. Cleveland's Jack Kralick allowed only two more hits the rest of the way.

Joel Horlen came back with a four-hitter in the nightcap, permitting the Indians just two hits after the second inning. Horlen aided his own cause by squeezing home a run with a bunt in the second inning.

Joe Sparna hurled a four-hitter for the Tigers in the second game. He also led the offensive punch against the Senators, driving in two runs with a triple in the fifth and scoring on Billy Bruton's double.

Errors by Don Blasingame and Jim King helped Detroit score three runs and break a 4-1 tie in the fifth inning of the opener. Don Zimmer's two-run homer in the ninth brought Washington to within one run.

Chuck Hinton connected with one on for the Senators in the third.

Boston won a slugfest from the Angels on Tony Conigliaro's three run homer in the eighth. Willie Smith's run-scoring single had given the Angels a 6-5 lead in the seventh, but Dick Stuart tied it minutes later with a home run. Smith previously drove in two runs with a single and scored a run after lashing a triple.

St. Louis, Kansas City In 'First's'

By The Associated Press

St. Louis and Kansas City came up with a couple of firsts Sunday. The Cardinals stopped Cincinnati 3-1 for their first victory at Crosley Field in six games. The A's defeated Baltimore 3-1 for their first winning effort against the Orioles in eight games.

St. Louis scored in the first inning on a walk, stolen base, wild pitch and Dick Groat's single. The Reds tied it in the second on Leo Cardenas's double, a fielder's choice and Deron Johnson's single.

The Cards wrapped it up in the seventh on Bill White's double and run scoring singles by Bob Skinner and Tim McCarver.

Roger Craig went the distance for the victory, his fifth against four losses. He allowed 10 hits while loser Joey Jay gave up only six in absorbing his fifth loss against four victories.

The A's victory boosted them to ninth place in the American League standings again, two and half games ahead of last place Washington and 18 games in back of the league leading Orioles.

John O'Donoghue pitched eight innings and allowed only six hits. Wes Stock relieved him for the ninth and retired the side in order. O'Donoghue has now won six and lost four.

Kansas City scored all of its runs in the third and O'Donoghue ignited the rally with a single. George Williams singled. Manny Jimenez doubled, and Rocky Colavito and George Alusk singled.

Baltimore came back to pick up its only counter in the same inning on Bob Johnson's solo home run.

Steve Barber took the Oriole loss, his sixth against four victories.

Kansas City and St. Louis will be idle today and Tuesday for the All-Star game break. League action resumes Wednesday.

NL Roundup

Phils Nip 'Frisco; Cards Stop Cincy

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Whoosh! The gusty wind that shook San Francisco over the weekend wasn't one of Candlestick Park's ordinary breezes. It was created by Gene Mauch's All-Starless Philadelphia Phillies, who blew right past the Giants into first place in the National League.

The Phillies, who failed to place a man higher than third in the voting for the NL All-Star team, looked like first stringers Sunday as they completed a three-game sweep of the Giants with a 2-1 victory.

There was Richie Allen, whose five hits had sparked the first two victories Friday and Saturday, making two putouts on one play as some loose base running broke the back of a Giant rally in the seventh inning.

There was Jack Baldschun, Jack Baldschun, completed his second save of the big series and ninth of the season by striking out Willie Mays with the tying run on base in the eighth. He also set the Giants down in order in the ninth, fanning four of the six batters he faced.

The clutch play of Sunday's game came in the seventh with Dennis Bennett nursing a 2-1 Phillie lead after Jim Hart's leadoff homer. Bennett struck out Orlando Cepeda but the slugger reached first when the third strike got away. Jesus Alou followed with a single, moving Cepeda to third.

When Del Crandall bounced to Allen, the rookie third baseman caught Cepeda in a rundown and eventually tagged him out. Crandall dashed for second and Alou went to third while the Phillies were chasing Cepeda.

Allen, attempting to get Crandall, fired to second and Alou suddenly broke toward the plate. The Giant rookie was caught in a rundown and eventually tagged out by Allen, completing a double play.

In other NL games, St. Louis topped Cincinnati 3-1. Milwaukee whacked Chicago 7-1. Los Angeles blanked New York 5-0 and Pittsburgh smacked Houston 7-1.

John Pryor Wins Singles Championship

WINFIELD, Kan. (AP)—Unseeded John Pryor of Tulsa won the singles championship, then teamed with Frank Connor of St. Louis for the doubles crown Sunday in the 18-and-under division of the Missouri Valley Junior Tennis Tournament.

Pryor, 16, defeated second-seeded Darrell Snyder of Winfield 6-2, 6-1, in the singles final Saturday. The doubles finals were postponed to Sunday because of darkness. Pryor and Connor defeated Snyder and Dale Hendrickson, of Winfield, 6-4, 8-6 for the doubles title.

Sheila Pearl of Des Moines won the girls' 18-and-under singles crown, 6-3, 6-3 over Judy Waid of Lawton, Okla. Miss Pearl and Sheryl Barger of Ponca City, Okla., won the doubles title, 6-3, 6-2, over Terry Tippin of Prairie Village, Kan. and Cheryl English of St. Louis.

Sandy Koufax won his eighth straight and 12th of the season as the Dodgers moved into a fifth place tie with St. Louis. Koufax, who has allowed only six runs in 69 innings during the streak, got batting support from Willie Davis who drove in three runs with a homer and a double.

Seventh inning singles by Bob Skinner and Tim McCarver broke a 1-1 tie and gave the Cardinals their victory.

Roger Craig, who allowed 10 hits, went the distance for his fifth victory against four losses. Joey Jay, 4-5, pitched a six-hitter but lost.

Wade Blasingame won his first major league game, hurling an eight-hitter against the Cubs. Mike de la Hoz hampered his first NL homer and Joe Torre clubbed a pair of doubles as the Braves routed All-Star pitcher Dick Ellsworth.

Jerry Lynch clouted his 16th career pinch homer to start the Pirates' late surge and Manny Mota smashed a three-run shot to end it. In between Pittsburgh tagged Dick Farrell and Hal Woodeshick for all their runs.

Farrell, trying for the fifth time to win his 11th game, had a four-hitter for seven innings before Lynch's two-run shot put the Pirates in front in the eighth. Pittsburgh scored five more in the ninth.

Congratulations For Nicklaus For Winning

WHITEMARSH, Pa. (AP)—"Congratulations Jack, you've won," a well wisher told Jack Nicklaus in the locker room at the Whitemarsh Valley Country Club Sunday.

Nicklaus eyed the visitor and inquired:

"Has anyone told Arnie?" Arnold Palmer at that moment was playing the 17th hole and was three strokes behind Nicklaus, who had posted a four-round 12-under-par 275 in the Whitemarsh Open.

"It would be just like him to knock in an eagle and a birdie and tie the thing," Nicklaus said.

It was typical of the respect Palmer's colleagues feel for the biggest money winner of them all. Throughout the $125,000 Whitemarsh Open, the leaders always seemed to look back over their shoulder and inquire, "Where's Palmer?"

Palmer didn't make it this time. Nicklaus' five-under-par 69 final round erased the six stroke 54-hole lead held by Juan (Chi Chi) Rodriguez, and won him the $24,000 first prize.

Nicklaus edged Player by one stroke Sunday after both came from way back to take the big money. Player, who earned $16,000 for second place, made up five strokes on the field in the final round.

Player finished with a 69-70-69-69—277, one stroke ahead of Palmer who had a 68-70-67-73.

Garnett Returns To Normal After Wild Night of Rioting

GARNETT, Kan. (AP) — Most of the 44 college-age youths who appeared before a hastily assembled court Sunday morning after a wild night of disturbances were released from jail after friends and relatives provided bail money of from $50 to $200.

Garnett returned to its normal sleepy status as a town of 3,000 after completion of two days of sports car racing that for the second year in a row brought disturbances by young race fans.

Charges against the youths ranging from 17 to 25 years of age mostly were for disturbing the peace, but several were charged for driving while intoxicated, assaulting an officer or disobeying an officer.

Police estimated that some 3,000 youths were camped

All-Around Champion At J-Bar-H Rodeo

CAMDENTON, Mo. (AP) — Clyde Frost of La Point, Utah, the bareback bronc and saddle bronc winner, was the all-around champion cowboy at the week-long J-Bar-H Rodeo which ended Saturday night in Camden-ton, Mo.

A total of $30,000 in prize money was awarded.

Rodeo clown Buck LeGrande, 32, of Morrison, Okla., a former champion Brahma bull rider, broke his leg from the last Brahma bull released from the chute Saturday night. He suffered a broken leg at this rodeo in 1961 and was out of action three weeks.

Other over-all winners for the week included Richard Walker of Cotulla, Tex., in calf roping; Dewey Dunaway of Burkburnett, Tex., in steer wrestling; Lam Libby of Camden-ton in wild horse racing; and Harry Tompkins of Dublin, Tex., and David Glover of Durant, Okla., tied for first in Brahma bull riding around Garnett. They became restless Saturday evening without anything to do and began taunting the 150 policemen brought here to beef up the town's eight-man police force.

The city had arranged for an outdoor dance as a diversion. Instead it became a gathering ground for a crowd of 2,000, mostly male, who balked at the $1.50 each admission. It had been announced earlier the dance was free.

A line of policemen armed with night sticks and electric cattle prods stood in front of the snow fence that separated the dancing area. They had at least 10 dogs specially trained for riot control.

Despite this, the youths three times pressed forward and were driven back each time. Two officers were burned about the legs by cherry bombs. Finally police moved the youths to another area across the highway where they dispersed rapidly.

Later they regrouped at South Lake Park where the city's water and power plant is located.

Then came word that they planned to get into the multi-million-dollar power plant.

Some 300 to 400 youths tried three times to get past police lines and failed each time. Later one 20-year-old was seen in the power plant turning a valve that the superintendent said could have caused the entire city electrical supply to fail. He was warned and sent back to his friends but two hours later he was in custody—for trying the same thing. His bond was set at $100 on a charge of disturbing the peace.

Last year 35 youths were arrested during a riot and similar high bonds were set for them. All but one failed to show for trial and forfeited bond. It was expected the same thing would happen this time.

The total value of bonds set was $4,550. One youth was sent back to jail and no bond was set because he was charged with attempting burglary, a felony. He was arrested while trying to climb the side of a building. The reason he gave in court was that he was looking for his friends, but instead saw only police.

Sixth Annual Garnett Race Disappoints

GARNETT, Kan. (AP) — A slim turnout of both sports cars and spectators, plus very little contention on the track made the sixth annual Lake Garnett Grand Prix a disappointing event this weekend.

It was virtually no contest as Jack Hinkle of Wichita, Kan., won the feature race for the third time in a Cooper Monaco with an average speed of 37.1 miles an hour. He completed 32 laps around the 2.7-mile road course in the hour-long race.

Because the field was so small officials combined A production cars along with C, D, E, F and G modified cars.

Hinkle was running in D modified, but won over Dick Durant's Durant Special in the larger displacement C modified class. Durant is from Florissant, Mo. Third was Charles Barnes of Dallas, driving a Melvyn Cosworth and fourth, A. Clinton Lindberg, St. Louis, driving an Elva in G modified.

The most interesting duel of the day was between an XKE-Jaguar driven by Dave Dooley of Oklahoma City and a TR 4 driven by John Goans Jr. of Kansas City. Goans in the much smaller engine car trailed Dooley by only seconds for most of the race but failed to catch him.

Dooley won in B production and Goans in D production. Don Sessler of Columbus, Ohio, who placed second nationally last year in E production, won F production in a Sunbeam Alpine.

Leonard Janke of Tender, Neb. won E production in an Austin Healey 100. Other winners were Durant in C modified; Ernie Harris of Fort Wayne, Ind., in F modified; Barnes in G modified; and Bob Cross, St. Louis in A production.

Graham Shaw, 27, of Columbia, S. C., injured in practice before the first day of racing, remained in critical condition.

Shaw's Cobra flipped end over end and he was thrown out. The crowd was estimated at 23,000 for Sunday, 12,000 Saturday, far below previous two-day totals of about 75,000. One reason race drivers said, was a change this year that made driving in divisional races more desirable than risking a car in a national race like Garnett.

Drivers winning their divisional titles this year will be invited on an expense-paid trip to Riverside near Los Angeles for a championship race.

Five Crewmen Killed Aboard Search Plane

KETCHIKAN, Alaska (AP) — All five crewmen aboard a twin-engine Coast Guard search plane were killed when they crashed into a mountain, only a minute or two from their base at near-by Annette island.

The burned and battered wreckage was spotted from the air late Sunday. It was mashed into the woods 2,000 feet above the Pacific Ocean and only 200 feet from the top of Dall Head on Gravina Island.

The Coast Guard reported there was no chance that any of the fliers survived. The last word from the amphibious Albatross plane — returning in the dark and murky drizzle Friday night, after a search for a grounded fishing boat — was a request to turn on landing strip lights at Annette Air Station.

Aboard the plane were the pilot, Lt. Joseph N. Andrassy, Port Angeles, Wash., and copilot Lt. (j.g.) Robert A. Perchard, 27, Westwood, Mass.

Other crewmen were Harry W. Olson, 39, Cheyenne, Wyo.; Donald C. Malena, 29, Monongahela, Pa.; and Edward D. Krajniak, 22, Parma Heights, Ohio.

Iron Peg Comes Up For Handicap

By ORLO ROBERTSON

Associated Press Sports Writer

Iron Peg, virtually unknown two months ago, has stuck his nose literally into the thick of contest for the American turf's handicap division title by proving he can carry his vaunted speed over a distance of ground.

The son of Dark Star, 1953 Kentucky Derby winner, with the blood of the speedy Roman flowing through his veins, was unraced as a 2-year-old. As a 3-year-old he was sent to England by Harry F. Guggenheim, owner of the Cain Hay Stable. He did nothing there to distinguish himself in five races, except for setting the pace for one mile of the English Derby.

It has been a different story since he made his 4-year-old debut in this country May 12 at Aqueduct last Saturday when he came up against Kelso, champion American thoroughbred the last four years, and Olden Time winner of four straight, in the 1 1/4 miles of the $110,000 Suburban Handicap at Aqueduct.

With Manuel Ycaza in the saddle, he let Olden Times set the pace for one mile, then bounded to the front and staved off Kelso's stretch challenge for a victory in 2:01 4/5 over a dull track. Olden Times faded to third, four lengths back.

The $75,000-added Dwyer for 3-year-olds Saturday could give Aqueduct another thriller. The field will not be known until after weights are announced today but eligibles for the 1 1/4 mile race included Quadrangle and Roman Brother.

Dandy K., who whipped Roman Brother in the Chicagoan, is scheduled to make his debut on the grass in the 1-1/16 miles of the $30,000-added Laurance Armour Handicap at Arlington Park.

Elsewhere on the Fourth of July, Spanish Fort, $60,40, captured the $46,500 Stars and Stripes Handicap at Arlington Park; Colorado King, $14,80, won the $55,200 American Handicap at Hollywood Park; Time Tested, $3,60, scored in the $25,050 Dover Stakes at Delaware Park and Du De Great, $5, took the Mayflower Stakes at Suffolk Downs.

Reporter Helps Save 13 From Car Fire

ADAMS CITY, Colo. (AP) — A newspaper reporter helped rescue nine children and four adults trapped in a burning car north of Denver Sunday.

State patrolman E. B. Lane said a car driven by Mrs. Dixie Hansen of Pierce, Colo., burst into flames after the car's rear tires appeared to blow out.

In a car 300 yards behind, reporter Wiley Smith of the Greeley (Colo.) Tribune stopped and ran to the burning car. He and Mrs. Hansen managed to pull the nine children and four other adults to safety.

The car was destroyed. No one was injured.

New African Nation Is Celebrated

BLANTYRE, Malawi (AP) — With fireworks and mountain bonfires lighting up the sky, 50,000 wildly cheering Africans celebrated the birth of Malawi early today.

At midnight the former British protectorate of Nyasaland became Malawi, Africa's 37th independent nation, after 73 years of colonial rule.

Dr. Hastings Banda, prime minister of the infant nation, presided at ceremonies as the Malawi flag of black, green, and red horizontal stripes replaced the British Union Jack.

Prince Philip, husband of Queen Elizabeth II, and Governor Sir Glyn Jones, represented Britain at the celebration in the central stadium, which included tribal dancing and military parades. Jones now becomes governor-general of Malawi, the queen's representative in the 18th member nation of the British Commonwealth.

Official ceremonies centered on Blantyre, the main town in this mountainous south central African nation of 3.9 million Africans, 8,000 whites and 12,000 Asians.

After a moment of silence at midnight, 50,000 voices in the stadium roared "Ufufu" (independence).

Throughout the Indiana-sized nation, bonfires blazed on prominent peaks. A party of whites and Africans climbed 10,000-foot Mt. Malanje, the country's highest peak, to plant the new flag and light the nation's largest bonfire.

For Banda, a 58-year-old physician who attended Harvard Medical School, the ceremonies marked the end of a six-year struggle to win independence for his people. Although a determined nationalist, Banda is essentially pro-western and anxious to attract investors to develop his country's largely agricultural economy.

Britain has promised to cover Malawi's budget deficit, now $11.9 million, for the next five years. Britain and the United States are pouring in technical and financial aid.

More Viet Data Seen From Taylor

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor's assumption of U.S. leadership in South Viet Nam may bring more accurate—and perhaps more balanced—information to Washington on the course of the war.

Reliable assessments from the field are imperative if the government is to be guided properly in its decisions on the conduct of U.S. efforts to help the South Vietnamese overcome Communist rebellion.

Certain key American officials here have been skeptical about the estimates and reports sent in from South Viet Nam.

This is not to suggest they have felt U.S. military and diplomatic authorities in Saigon have tried to delude the White House, State Department and the Defense Department.

But some Washington officials have doubts about the way the information is gathered, the sources, and the judgments made on the basis of this information.

They acknowledge that accurate assessments are difficult in a war characterized by hundreds of small unit actions and a country whose peasant population is widely scattered through jungle, mountain and swampy delta.

It is known that Taylor, now on his way to take over as U.S. ambassador in South Viet Nam, intends to look very hard at the sources of information.

It is known, too, that Taylor believes the views of all observers should be reflected in the reports to Washington. This would give Washington the benefit of varying viewpoints from both soldiers and civilians on the scene.

The four-star general, who retired as chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff to take over leadership of the entire U.S. effort in Viet Nam, expects to return to Washington about once every three months to report directly to President Johnson and other top policy makers.

But, it is known, he has no intention of looking over the shoulder of Gen. William C. Westmoreland, the U.S. military commander in South Viet Nam.

Taylor's job, as he sees it, is to pull together the entire U.S. civilian and military program into one effective package.

Dead From Grief

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—Last Christmas morning Rose Urtado, 42, was shot to death as she opened the front door of her home to stop a gang fight outside.

The death left 12 motherless children and Galvin Urtado, 38, their grief-stricken father.

Police called to Urtado's home by neighbors Sunday found him hanged. They said he apparently killed himself in his grief.

Grenade Thrown At US Embassy Doesn't Explode

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—A Viet Cong terrorist threw a grenade at the U. S. Embassy in Saigon today but it failed to explode.

The grenade was hidden in a loaf of bread that the terrorist tore open before throwing the grenade. In his excitement he pulled the detonating mechanism from the grenade instead of just the pin and it did not go off, an embassy spokesman said.

Vietnamese police cordoned off the boulevard leading past the embassy.

Vietnamese embassy drivers who were witnesses said the bomb was thrown by a Vietnamese dressed in white trousers and a shirt. He got away.

Americans inside the embassy were ordered to stay in until a thorough search was made of the area. Then they were allowed to go home for lunch.

The incident took place less than 24 hours before the arrival of the new U.S. ambassador to Viet Nam, Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor.

GOP Platform Boss Singled Out

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Melvin R. Laird of Wisconsin has said he got the job of chairman of the Republican Platform committee because "I was the only one that one of the leading contenders didn't object to."

There is truth in this, but also some tongue-in-cheek modesty. Laird is about as close to a professional party platform assembler as anyone can be in that seasonal and specialized business. He has been at it since 1952 — and tonight he begins overseeing the touchy hearings from which will spring the GOP platform for this election year.

Tall, often serious and with a high forehead at 42, Laird became a legislator at a remarkably early age and developed into something of a scholar on public matters.

But he is not an ivory tower. A good conciliator, he can be touchy when the occasion demands, as it did when the 1960 committee exploded in anger in Chicago because Richard M. Nixon and Nelson A. Rockefeller had met secretly in New York and agreed on planks to go into the platform.

Laird, vice chairman, took the chair from businessman Charles Percy—"Because I knew the house rules we were operating under," he says — and gavelled down overexcited members, kept a marathon session going and arrived at a product the committee could endorse.

He says that only four changes were made in the platform as the committee had drafted it, though there were 14 points in the Nixon-Rockefeller agreement.

Laird was born Sept. 1, 1922, in Marshfield, Wis., population 14,153, in a family that already had produced elected officials for two generations. At Carleton College, he majored in political science and got himself elected president of his class.

Laird went from college into the Navy, serving on a destroyer in one of Adm. William (Bull) Halsey's Pacific task forces and collecting Purple Hearts for two wounds from Japanese air attacks.

He was on shore duty in Cleveland, Ohio, after 26 months at sea when his father, a retired Presbyterian minister serving in the state Senate, died. At 23, campaigning on weekends, Laird ran for the post against a 14-year veteran of the Assembly. He won, be-

Tracy Tries Assistant Director Job

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "First team" shouted the assistant director, signaling the stand-ins to step out of the scene and the stars to take their places.

Vivien Leigh, Simone Signoret, Jose Ferrer, Elizabeth Ashley and Oskar Werner entered the shipboard dining room set, and Spencer Tracy rose from his chair to join them.

The cast and crew laughed at Tracy's gag; he was responding like an old fire horse to the clanging of the bell. Although the actor is frequently on the set of "Ship of Fools," he is not working in the movie.

There had been reports that Tracy is observing Stanley Kramer's making of "Ship of Fools" with the idea of turning director himself. I asked him about that.

"I don't know," he replied. "It might be an interesting experience, but I'm not sure I have the patience to direct. I will say that I am learning a great deal by watching. You'd think I'd know all the tricks by now. But you miss a lot when you have to concentrate on your own job."

"Another reason I'm hanging around I won't go into, but it happens that this company is still paying me a lot of money, (apparently for previous Kramer films.)

"But if you want to know the real reason, it's because I get a free lunch every day."

He made the remark with a twinkle and it reflected his present mood, which is mellow. Tracy has been known to get his Irish up. He is all smiles on the "Ship of Fools" set.

He looks great, belying all the fears for his health when he was stricken with a lung congestion last July and later had to withdraw from a role in "Cheyenne Autumn." His face is ruddy and his figure trim.

"Yeah, I've dropped 35 pounds," he said. "Now I can't understand how I was able to pack all that weight around. How did I get rid of it? Just by cutting down on the chow. And I get some exercise every day. I've got a dog, and we go for long walks in the country."

Tracy has signed to return to his old home grounds at MGM for "The Cincinnati Kid" with Steve McQueen. "We'll begin in October—or whenever McQueen gets back from the motorcycle races," he said.

Tracy's health kick has not coming the youngest state senator Wisconsin ever had.

"I think I won on my father's name," Laird said. "But my opponent helped. He made an issue of my campaigning in uniform, and it backfired."

Laird began attending Republican national conventions as a Wisconsin delegate in 1948. In 1952 he moved up from the Wisconsin Legislature to the U.S. House of Representatives where, he says, he wants to make his career.

Since the Wisconsin delegation was pledged to favorite-son Rep. John W. Byrnes, Laird has been pretty much insulated during the early phases of his platform work from the hot nomination fight between Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona and Gov. William W. Scottanton of Pennsylvania.

He describes his own political philosophy as that of a "creative conservative." In Congress, he has done his duty by Wisconsin's dairy interests and has worked and articulated, as a member of the Appropriations Committee, on defense and medical research matters.

Prosecutor Says Mrs. Kinne Will Be Tried Again

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The third trial of Mrs. Sharon Kinne on charges of murdering her husband ended in a hung jury Saturday and Donald L. Mason, assistant prosecutor, says the state plans to try the case again in September.

Mrs. Kinne remains free under $25,000 bond.

The jury got the case late Friday and reported back nearly 24 hours later it was hopelessly deadlocked.

She was acquitted in the 1960 shooting of her husband at their home in Independence, Mo. Mrs. Kinne was convicted by a Jackson County Circuit Court jury in January, 1962 and sentenced to life imprisonment but 15 months later the Missouri Supreme Court reversed the verdict.

The higher court found the trial court erred in instructions to the jury and in not permitting her defense the correct number of peremptory challenges.

caused him to give up cigarettes. He doesn't drink any more.

"But," he added with a grin, "if I never touch another drop, I figure I'll still be ahead."

US Soldier Wounded In East Berlin

BERLIN (AP)—An American soldier was shot in a quiet side street of Communist-ruled East Berlin Sunday night and found by a passing U.S. officer.

The wounded soldier was brought back to West Berlin and placed in a military hospital where his condition was described as satisfactory.

A U.S. Army spokesman said. "The motive for the shooting was apparently robbery as the soldier reported his money was missing."

Army surgeons removed a small-caliber bullet from the soldier's stomach. He was shot in the right side of his back, just above the belt line.

The victim's name was withheld here pending notification of his next of kin, but in Oklahoma City, Mrs. Stanley Coppage said she received a telegram late Sunday night informing her that her son, Pfc. John M. Coppage, 19, had been seriously wounded in a shooting incident in East Berlin.

Coppage was stationed at Heilbronn, in West Germany, but wrote home last week that he planned a tour with an Army buddy.

The wounded soldier was found in a street leading to East Berlin's Red Square.

He had been on a bus tour of East Berlin and missed his bus, authorities said. He began walk-

10-year-old Wins Tom Sawyer Contest

HANNIBAL, Mo. (AP)—Robert Stahol, 10, of Niantic, Ill., won the annual Tom Sawyer fence painting contest Saturday at Hannibal.

Robert receives a $100 savings bond and a trophy which he will present to Illinois Gov. Otto Kerner for keeping in the state capitol at Springfield, Ill.

The winner is chosen for costume, efficiency and the speed with which he paints two fence boards.

No Kisses For Kitty From Dillon

EDITOR'S NOTE — For what in television is an eternity—nine seasons—Kitty Russell has been the proprietor of "Gunsmoke's" Long Branch saloon, dispensing beer and occasional advice to CBS Marshal Dillon and her raffish and often truculent customers. Amanda Blake, who has played Kissless Kitty through the years, explains here why Matt's romantic reserve can never be broken down.

By AMANDA BLAKE
For Vacationing Cynthia Lowry

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — To someone who has a black eye, the obvious question can get pretty tiresome after it's been asked forty or a hundred times but to an actress, questions — however obvious — are a pretty good indication of how well she's doing.

So I am more encouraged than annoyed by the one question I have to answer more than any other: "Aren't you ever going to be kissed by Marshal Dillon?"

I suppose it is a little puzzling, after nine years, to see this kissless romance perpetuated between Kitty Russell — that's me—and Marshal Dillon —that's Jim Arness—on "Gunsmoke."

There's an answer to the question: No.

But that answer always brings on the second question: "Why not?"

That question has an answer too, but it's a little longer.

The answer is concerned with the nature of the characters involved, and with the nature of the show and its subject matter. "Gunsmoke" tells the story of a frontier town, Dodge City, and a man who tries, by strength and skill and courage, to fight back the lawlessness that could engulf it. The show offers fictional tales of a time and a place and a situation that really existed.

And romantic love, while not unknown to that time and place, was—had to be—secondary to the protagonist's struggle to stay alive and do his job. For the marshal to become overly involved in a romance would dilute the drama of his story.

So in order to avoid getting in the way of the story, we've eliminated the outward show of romance between the marshal and his girl, leaving the precise nature of the relationship between Matt Dillon and Kitty Russell to the individual interpretation of viewers — it has worked out pretty well.

"Gunsmoke" has always been based on the idea that the drama of the West could appeal to adults as well as to youngsters, and that there's enough drama in history that there's no need to use hokum.

As Jim Arness puts it, Matt and Kitty are limited to "eyeballing" each other, on camera, at least. What they do while the cameras are out on the prairie, or in doc's office, or at Quint's forge — well, that's something else.

If viewers want visible romance between Kitty and the marshal, they'll have to supply it themselves in their imaginations.

As I've had to do.

Tshombe Will Try to Form New Regime

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Moise Tshombe, former secessionist president of Katanga Province, announced today he would try to form a new Congolese government with himself as premier.

Tshombe said President Joseph Kasavubu had named him premier-designate. He said he was optimistic he could put together a Cabinet of "national reconciliation" to pacify the Congo's many warring factions.

Tshombe said he had received assurances from the Rebel Committee of National Liberation based in Brazzaville, just across the river from Leopoldville.

He added that as a token of their good faith, the rebels had ordered a halt in antigovernment hostilities in Kwilu, Kivu and North Katanga provinces. Kasavubu had named Tshombe to consult with political bosses and report back. During the past week since his return from voluntary exile, he has met with leaders of all tendencies.

Tshombe will attempt to form a transitional government to prepare for new legislative elections following outgoing Premier Cyrille Adoula's resignation on June 30 and ratification of a new constitution which is now under way.

Tshombe claimed he had received the support of all save "a few individuals, athirst for power."

But political observers noted that several statements signed jointly by Tshombe and other leaders were partially or wholly repudiated by the leaders almost as soon as the ink on their signatures was dry.

Red, white, & blue retirement plan

Sure, you'll have social security. Maybe an insurance plan, company pension and money in the bank to boot.

But buying U.S. Savings Bonds is also an excellent way to prepare for that day when you start taking it easy full time.

If you buy one a month at $37.50 for 7½ years before you retire, you'll have $50.00 a month coming in for 7½ years after. (That's just an example. You can adjust the dollars and the years to suit yourself.)

Something else to think about: Bonds can help make sure you'll have a future to retire to in the first place. The money does a lot to strengthen Uncle Sam's hand in the free world.

Why not make it a habit to buy Bonds regularly where you bank, or on the Payroll Savings Plan where you work? See if you don't feel pretty good about it—now and later.

Quick facts about Series E Savings Bonds

- You get back $4 for every $3 at maturity (7½ years)
- You pay no state or local tax and can defer the federal tax until the Bonds are cashed
- Your Bonds are replaced free if lost, destroyed or stolen
- You can get your money when you need it
